Emily Frazin

emilysfrazin@gmail.com
Portfolio: emilyfrazin.herokuapp.com

Objective: To become a creative individual and group based web developer.

Education: University of Central Florida, Orlando, FL   Grad date: Dec 2015
            B.A. in Digital Media: Web Design

University of Central Florida Coding Bootcamp   March 2016 – September 2016

Programs and Systems:

Mac OS and Window	Adobe Illustrator	Adobe Photoshop
Adobe Dreamweaver	WordPress	Microsoft Visual Studio
Git	Microsoft Office

Computer Languages: HTML5, CSS, Bootstrap, SASS, JavaScript, jQuery, Node.JS, Express,
                Ajax/APIs, PHP, Laravel 5.2 and 5.3, MySQL, AngularJS

Projects:

Crisis Corps: An application created to bring the community together after a tragedy. Volunteers sign up to volunteer with different tasks around the city. Tech used Bootstrap, Sass, Node, Express, MySQL, and jQuery.

OrlandoIn3: An application to simplify date night. User chooses type of restaurant, type of entertainment, and then they enjoy. Tech used Bootstrap, JavaScript, jQuery, Ajax, API, and Firebase.

ITTBAPA: WordPress website called It's Time To Be A Parent Again created with the use of basic WordPress fundamentals and plugins created during time as intern at Tightline Productions.

Employment:

Contract Front End Web Developer with Veriato   October 2016-December 2016
- Created front end of installer application using AngularJS, HTML, and Bootstrap
- Angular validation, button manipulation, and user friendly design throughout application

Internship with Tightline Productions   June 2015-August 2015
- Worked with WordPress to help edit and add to client's websites

Bagger, Cashier, and Bakery Clerk at Publix Supermarkets   2009-2013
- Provided customer based service
- Packaged bakery goods, prepared and baked goods, organized stock